The Hilton Head Hospitality Association (HHHA) is a non-profit trade organization serving the hospitality industry and related businesses in the Hilton Head region. The Association actively represents its members to national, state and local agencies and organizations, provides members networking opportunities, develops and implements industry workforce training, and produces acclaimed destination related festivals to enhance the region's tourism.

2010 marks the 25th anniversary of the Hilton Head Island Wine & Food Festival. The International Wine Judging and Competition kicks off the celebration February 4-7. Enjoy a wine pairing dinner, a cooking demonstration/class, a chef's table, or a Gullah traditional meal as island chefs showcase their talents during the Great Chefs of the South, March 1-15. Sample some of the world's finest wines at the Grand Wine Tasting on March 12, and the following day, head to WineFest for the public tasting and auction, one of the East Coast's largest outdoor public wine and food events.

Coastal Discovery Museum at Honey Horn

Requires admission to Public Tasting & Auction

The outdoor kitchen returns with showcase features from island chefs on site at the Public Tasting & Auction, Saturday, March 13th. The kitchen design has expanded, the chefs will demonstrate a focus on locally grown products and the addition of recipe cards will allow you to take the on-site experience to your own kitchen (or enable you to make a reservation to try it directly from the chef later). Note: Premium Admission ticket holders get opportunity for "up, close and personal" position during the event.

Great Chefs of the South

March 1-15, 2010

Locations on Hilton Head Island

Day, Time, Cost to Attend Varies per Experience

Capturing the heart of food lovers is easy with the events scheduled to transpire during the 2nd Annual Great Chefs of the South event! Island chefs have created a unique menu of food experiences while at the same time introducing visitors and guests to some of the island's most captivating locations. Choose to attend a wine and food pairing dinner at a private home or to enjoy a traditional Gullah storytelling feast at the Coastal Discovery Museum or to spend time learning about wine while attending a cooking class or to simply nosh and sip on the surf...a host of options await your participation.

Wine Centered Women (WCW)

March 11-13, 2010

ResortQuest Hilton Head, All About Me

The Wine Centered Women return in 2010 with a three-day series of events that would appeal to any wine and food lover (female or male). The series includes an intimate cooking demonstration in a ResortQuest beach-side home and a unique spa experience and packaged admission for the grand and public tastings...as well as a festive and interactive experience that transpires on site at the Public Tasting & Auction.
